Greetings All in this Easter Season!

As I write this, it's hard to believe that we are in spring, as it's the Monday after the ice and sleet of an April snowstorm. Much more like a February day than a day in mid-April. But so it is. And on a day like today, it's hard to imagine that by the time this new schedule ends, the year will be more than half over, and summer vacation for our kids will be quickly coming to a close.

Between now and then, we will continue celebrating the joys of Easter, culminating with the Solemnity of Pentecost on May 20. We will celebrate First Holy Communion for our 2nd graders on May 6th, and what a joy that will be for them to receive our Lord in the Eucharist for the first time! Later in May, our 6th grade St. Clement students will graduate on May 23, and the Senior Class of Lancaster High School will hold commencement on May 27. What a busy month May will be! As we move into June and July, many will experience family reunions, family vacations, weekends away and more. These months normally are times for renewal and relaxation, and to bask in the glory of God's creation!

It truly is a joyous time! With all the activity, please be mindful to secure a lector if you plan to be away on a given weekend. Please don't assume the other lector will just take the other reading in your absence; he or she may also be planning to be gone, and may be assuming that you will take their reading!

All of us are truly blessed as we proclaim the Word of God to our fellow brothers and sisters in Christ at Mass. Consider- how many people have the important role in giving voice to the Sacred Scriptures of our Lord and His Church? It's an important task, an equally important obligation to do so well, and to proclaim the Word with joy!

May you and your family have a blessed and joyful remainder of our Easter Season, and a refreshing and enjoyable summer.

*Christ's joy and peace be yours~
Bill*
